COURSE CONTENT

This undergraduate course is open to non-music majors with no prior musical training or guitar experience. The aims of the course will be to develop students’ classical guitar playing skills, including a practical knowledge of the physiological principles that inform all aspects guitar playing; including the positioning and movement of the body, arms, wrist and fingers, in accordance with current best practices in guitar pedagogy. Students will play primarily in a solo guitar format utilizing repertoire from global music traditions including European art music, American blues and popular music genres. Students will learn to play through aural and visual modeling and reading standard and tablature notation. Learning to playing expressively will be a central focus of the course. The course will culminate with a student-chosen final video performance submission in lieu of a final examination.

LECTURES

This course is "asynchronous," which means that we won't meet as a group at a particular time. Instead, you'll determine your own schedule for working through course activities and materials so that you can meet the course deadlines. New materials (video lectures, course curriculum etc.) will be released each Tuesday at 6am beginning January 10. Office hours will be held Thursday evenings from 8-9 pm beginning January 12, on Zoom.

COURSE MATERIALS

Students will be required to have a classical guitar, foot-rest, music stand and a YouTube account. No courseware or books will be required for this course. Instructional materials will be provided weekly through the Owl course website. If you are in the London area, guitars can be rented for approximately $10-$15 per month from Long and McQuade music store, 725 Fanshawe Park Rd W, London, ON. Phone:(519) 439-0101. Electric and folk (steel string) guitar will not be permitted.
WEEKLY VIDEO PERFORMANCE SUBMISSIONS 50%

Each week you will submit a video recording of yourself performing an instructor chosen piece studied during the previous week. This piece, as well as other supplementary playing materials will form the basis of your practicing for the week. Your video will demonstrate your practical application of the repertoire being studied during the previous week.

Main Piece, 40%: This video submission will highlight new musical/technical elements learned during the previous week.

Supplemental Piece, 10%: This video submission will highlight supplemental materials learn during the previous week. These may include chords, scales, or short pieces learned by ear or by tablature.

Video Submissions Guidelines: Please upload your weekly video submissions to YouTube, place the video on “unlisted mode”, then copy and submit the URL link through the provided portal. Video record yourself straight on—face to face—and be sure that your entire guitar, hands, arms, and fingers are visible. If you do not video record yourself as described above, I cannot accurately assess you and you will lose marks as a result. Each musical performance must be one continuous recording. Edited performances will receive a grade of zero. Please use the best possible recording devices at your disposal.

WEEKLY FORUM POST 10%

[Each week you will participate in a forum post. A typical forum post may ask you to discuss an aspect of the weekly material that you find difficult, then offer a solution or strategy for overcoming a difficulty that a peer has identified. For example, using the above question a peer might state, “I do not understand how to count rhythms when playing the guitar. I get confused with the difference between quarter notes and eight notes. Can someone offer a strategy to deal with this?” Your response might be, “tap your foot in a consistent manner, this represents a quarter note. Continue tapping the foot and clap twice; once as the foot goes down and once as the foot goes up. These represent eighth notes”. The goal of the forum is to provide a space for discussing difficulties that you may have with certain aspects of the weekly curriculum and for classmates to engage in peer-tutoring with those who are experiencing difficulties. Forums open on Tuesday at 6am and close on Thursday at 6 am.] The relatively short time to complete these forums is intentional; I want you to engage with new musical materials early in the week.

WEEKLY ONLINE QUIZ 20%

Each week there will be a 20-minute on-line quiz consisting of 10 multiple choice questions. Quizzes will test your knowledge of the repertoire, topics being studied, and aspects of guitar technique. Quizzes open Saturday at 6am and close on Sunday at 6am.

FINAL VIDEO ASSESSMENT 20%

You will submit a solo guitar video performance of yourself due by the last day of classes, Monday April 10, @11:59 pm. You may choose from a variety of pieces selected by the instructor, or a self-chosen piece, provided you have approval from the instructor. In the past, some students have chosen to perform popular music selections and even to sing and play. If you are choosing your own piece, please send a YouTube video and score for approval.

WEEKLY TIMELINE

- New musical materials will be released Tuesdays at 6am in the Course Content section of OWL.
- Office hour will be 8-9 pm Thursday evenings on Zoom, beginning January 12.
- Forum posts will open each Tuesday at 6am and will close on Thursday at 6am.
- On-line Quizzes will open each Saturday at 6 am and close on Sunday at 6am.
- Video submission will be accepted any time from Tuesday 6am, until the following Tuesday at 5:59 am.
- Culminating own choice final video submission to be submitted by the last day of the classes, Monday April 10, @11:59 pm.

COURSE OUTCOMES

By the end of this course, you will be able to position your body, guitar, hand, fingers, as well as move the fingers, all in accordance with best pedagogical practices. You will be able to read basic standard music notation (including pitches and rhythms) and guitar tablature. You will be able to play simple pieces by ear by watching and listening to peer models. You will be able to perform pieces with two voice textures, arpeggios, and diads from the classical music genre, and short riffs, chord strumming, and power chords from the popular music genre. Above all you will learn to play expressively, performing with dynamic contrasts, flexible tempo and warm tone.

EVALUATION

Methods of Evaluation & Grade Breakdown:

The grade for MUSIC 2105B will be based on the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Weekly Video Performance Submission: 50%</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Weekly Main Piece (40%)</td>
<td>10 weeks x 4% = 40%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Weekly Supplemental Piece: (10%)</td>
<td>10 weeks x 1% = 10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weekly Multiple-Choice Quiz: 20%</td>
<td>10 weeks X 2% = 20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weekly Forum Post: 10%</td>
<td>10 weeks x 1% = 10</td>

GOALS, PRACTICING, MODELING

Goals for the Class

Expressive Playing

Many aspects are involved when learning to play a musical instrument, including the proper positioning of the instrument, the movement of the body, how to read musical notation and how to practice effectively. While these aspects are all very important, the main focus of this class will be on expressive music making. Expressive musical aspects include dynamic shaping (playing loud or soft), flexible tempo (slowing down or speeding up) and balancing different musical voices (playing some parts loud and others soft). These expressive elements are the fun and exciting part of learning to play an instrument. They are why we enjoy listening to music, why we become interested in playing a musical instrument, and why we love listening to our favorite performers.

Practicing

Unlike subjects, which relies heavily on declarative knowledge (knowing that), playing music relies heavily on procedural knowledge (knowing how). Thus, learning the guitar resembles sports more than mathematics. For this reason, you should focus your practice sessions on reviewing the basics—the positioning of the instrument and body, the movement of the fingers, and creating beautiful sounds. When practicing you should identify musical areas needing refinement, establish realistic goals for these areas, create strategies to overcome difficulties, practice using those strategies, then reevaluate to see if those goals have been met. You will make many mistakes while learning to play an instrument—mistakes are a good thing! They are opportunities for growth. They allow you to identify and create change in your performance.

Modelling

Observing another’s performance is a common strategy used to facilitate the execution of new motor skills within the domains of sports (McCullagh, & Weiss, 2001) and musical performance (Dilworth, & DuCette, 2018). A significant amount of learning in this class will be facilitated through modelling. Beginning in week two a peer model video will be included in the course. It is strongly suggested that you watch, listen and emulate the peer model as you work to develop your weekly submission piece.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

i) Course Prerequisites: None. Course Antirequisites: This course is not available to Bachelor of Music students.

ii) Grading scale: A+=90-100%, A=80-89%, B=70-79%, C=60-69%, D=50-59%, F=0-49%.

iii) Academic Consideration for Student Absence & Missing Work (≥10%): Students are responsible for making up any missed classes or assignments as soon as possible. The University recognizes that a student’s ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student’s overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet their academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Associate Dean, Undergraduate (TC210), together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. Students are directed to read the Senate policy on accommodation for medical illness at the following website for further details regarding requirements and procedures for the supporting documentation:

https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner.

iv) Academic Consideration for Missing Work (<10%): In cases where students miss work that is worth less than 10% of the total course grade (i.e. two or fewer assignments) due to medical illness or compassionate grounds, if documentation is voluntarily submitted to the Associate Dean’s office and the Associate Dean grants an accommodation, then the missed assignment(s) or quiz(zes) will be discounted in the calculation of the final grade for the course. If documentation is not voluntarily submitted, then the missed assignment(s) will receive a grade of zero. Students who have been denied accommodation by an instructor may appeal this decision to the Associate Dean’s office but will be required to present appropriate documentation.

v) Academic Offences: Submission of work with which you have received help from someone else (other than the course instructor or TA) is an example of plagiarism, which is considered a major academic offence. Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, as found at: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

vi) Mental Health & Wellness: Students that are in emotional/mental distress should refer to the Health and Wellness at Western page (https://www.uwo.ca/health/) for a complete list of options about how to obtain help or to go to the Wellness Education Centre located in UCC room 76. Students in crisis in need of immediate care are directed to go directly to Student Health Services in UC11 or to click on the green “I Need Help Now” button on the Health and Wellness page above.

vii) Accommodation for Students with Disabilities: Students work with Accessible Education Western (AEW, formerly SSD) which provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive testing. The accommodation policy can be found here: https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/Academic%20Accommodation_disabilities.pdf viii) Religious Accommodation: Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays, and should give reasonable notice in writing, prior to the holiday, to the Instructor and an Academic Counsellor if their course requirements will be affected by a religious observance. Additional information is given in the Western Multicultural Calendar.

ix) Computer-marked Multiple-choice Tests or Exams: These may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

x) Recording of Online Activities: Participants in this course are not permitted to record the sessions, except where recording is an approved accommodation, or the participant has the prior written permission of the instructor.
